

Democrats Aim To Block New State Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Democratic convention was expected to ask today that a Mississippi delegation including Negroes be seated at the party's national convention instead of "the traditional Democratic party of Mississippi."

The state resolutions committee, headed by Detroit Negro Alphonso Harper, approved a resolution early today calling the traditional party "undemocratically constituted in that it discriminates against large numbers of citizens."

The committee also approved a resolution calling for "congressional reform" including "changes in the infamous Senate Rule 22 which now permits the filibuster to block legislation."

First Big Push

The convention was the scene of the first big push in the petition drive against the Massachusetts Ballot.

Former Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn is coordinating the drive for 138,242 petition signatures needed to force a referendum on the new voting method and thus prevent its use at least this year. He said nearly 15,000 petitions already have been distributed, many of them at the convention.

"People who haven't been active in the party in years, independents and even some Republicans who see this as an infringement on their rights have asked for petitions," Colburn said.

The resolutions committee called for the convention to give its full endorsement to the petition drive.

No Straight Tickets

"The Republican-dominated legislature, aided by the Republican governor of this state, recently passed, without public hearings or opportunity for expressions of public opinion, an elections law designed to inhibit the election process," says the committee's resolution.

"This law deprives the Michigan voter of the right and convenience of voting a straight party ticket except through the slow and cumbersome method of . . . registering his vote individually for each of his desired candidates."

"This method of voting, for all practical purposes, abrogates the significance of party platform, program or philosophy. The right to make a free, clear and simplified choice of political philosophy through the use of the straight party ballot is completely denied by the adoption of the Massachusetts Ballot," says the resolution.

The Upper Peninsula delegation to the Democratic state convention from the 11th and 12th Districts is the last that will ever be so constituted. In November the two congressional districts will be merged into the new 11th, which will include the 15 U. P. counties and 7 in the Lower Peninsula.

The delegations are:

11th District: Howard Boudreau, Alpena; George Lablanc, Charlevoix; Bertine Fenner, St. Ignace; Claude Tobin, Escanaba. Alternates: Ford Martin, Mackinaw City; Margaret Adams, Petoskey; Harold Beaton, Manistique; Jim Gough, Menominee.

12th District: Dominic Jacobetti, Negaunee; Andrew Wisti, Chassell; Norman Mainville, Kingsford; Frank Perlich, Bessemer. Alternates: Daniel Piper, White Pine; Philip Rahoi, Iron Mountain; Walter Dartlano, Chassell and Richard Trudegon, White Pine.

New Soviet Pact With E. Germany Brings No Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard goes home tonight after agreeing with President Johnson that the West need not worry about the Soviet-East German friendship treaty.

The pact the U.S.S.R. and her satellite signed in Moscow Friday aroused sharp interest in Washington but created no new crisis, German sources declared.

In fact, State Department experts were inclined to regard the treaty as a defeat for Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist leader and chief of state.

He is understood to have asked for a separate "peace treaty"—which the West firmly opposes—and got instead a pact with a lofty title but little substance.

Goldwater Has Lost Status, Romney Thinks

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney says he is finding it increasingly difficult even to consider supporting Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

He made the statement in a press conference Friday at which he expressed pleasure at Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's announcement of candidacy for the nomination.

But Romney stood by his Sunday statement at the National Governor's Conference in Cleveland that he prefers no single candidate and will not support anyone for the nomination at least until meeting with Michigan's uncommitted convention delegation June 26.

Romney said he thought his Sunday statement put him "as close as I could get without absolutely closing the door" on considering supporting Goldwater at the GOP national convention next month in San Francisco. "The odds are even less now," said Romney.

But he said Goldwater's Wednesday vote against ending the southern filibuster on civil rights "has made it a little more difficult" to keep the door ajar.

Romney had said in Cleveland that unless Goldwater is "the victim of misinterpretation," the senator's public views "do not square with the Republican party's heritage."

But Friday he said the Goldwater vote against cloture "is not subject to interpretation. It is a matter of record and it does not square with the priceless Republican heritage from Lincoln that every citizen is entitled to full human rights."

Romney again invited Goldwater to expand his views on foreign policy, civil rights and labor-management relations.

The Cleveland conference, he said he would welcome a chance to discuss these items personally with Goldwater.

Romney Friday sent wires to Goldwater, Scranton, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine to meet with the 48-vote Michigan convention delegation here June 26.

But he emphasized that junior colleges must retain their autonomy and not be subordinated to "educational chauvinism, ambition, status-seeking or empire-building."

Hannah said community colleges fill a need vital to the public interest. There is a continuing need for the community college to be organized, supported, directed and responsible to local interests, he said.

Today's Chuckle

Conscience is a small, still voice that makes minority reports.

Johnson and Erhard exchanged champagne toasts to continuing friendship, deepening understanding and cooperation.

After his meeting with Johnson six months ago at the LBJ ranch, Erhard said some people referred to their accord as a honeymoon that would fade.

"I think the honeymoon is over now," Erhard said. "We have reached the state of marriage, but based on trust, on faithfulness."

Johnson declared there can be no lasting peace in Europe until Germany is united "in peace and freedom." But he said the United States and her allies "shall work to open new avenues of trade and we shall work to build new bridges of ideas toward the East, to improve relations, to lessen tension, to enhance the prospects of all of us living in this world with peace."

As for the Soviet-East German treaty, Erhard said there is nothing alarming in it, but he asked for vigilance and reconfirmation of the Western position.

Rights Not Affected

A communique issued at the White House by Johnson and Erhard Friday gave this reconfirmation, in unmistakable terms. The treaty, it said, does not affect the rights of the three Western powers or "modify the obligations and responsibilities of the Soviet Union with respect to Germany and Berlin."

The communique also held Soviet Russia "solely responsible for the consequences of any attempt at interference with Allied rights that might result from implementation of the new treaty."

Though this was firm language, American and German diplomats said they do not expect Moscow to use the treaty as a pretext to new trouble in Berlin.

Whites March In St. Augustine

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — A new twist in this city's racial strife — whites marching through a Negro neighborhood — moved authorities to seek removal today of a ban on night marches.

More than 300 whites walked into the Negro section Friday night and were greeted by signs reading: "Welcome, Peace and brotherhood to you."

About 50 Negroes at one corner applauded as the whites left the district. Some said, "Hurry back."

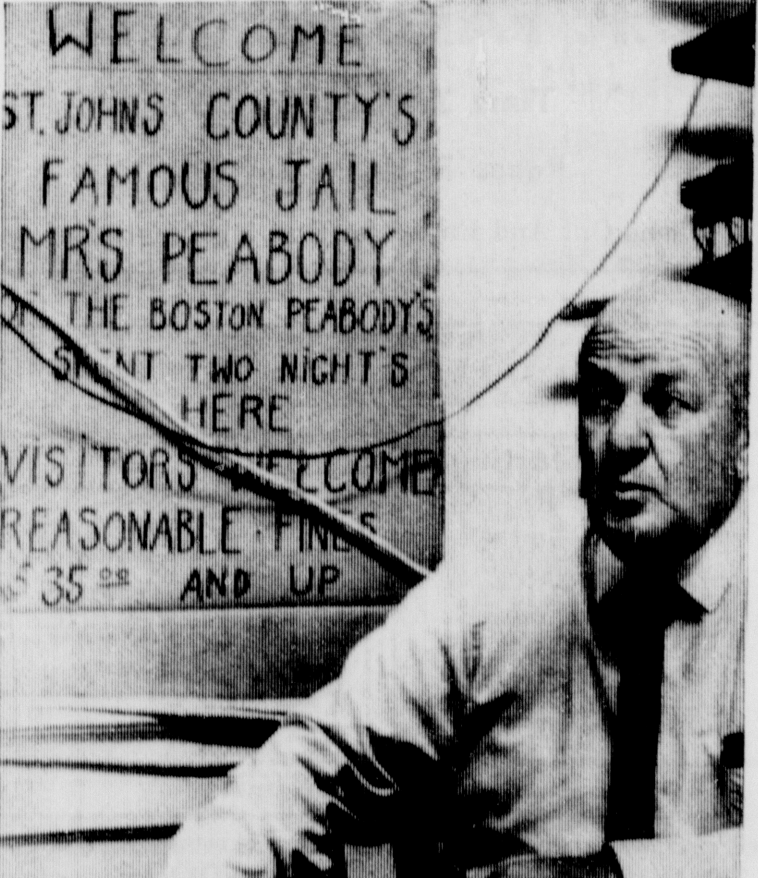

"We whipped them right there," said one Negro man. "They encountered no violence."

But Florida Atty. Gen. James Kynes said marches by either integrationists or segregationists contribute to "a clear and present danger."

He asked U.S. District Judge Bryan Simpson to reconsider his order striking down a police ban on night marches. A hearing was scheduled at Jacksonville today.

Dr. Martin Luther King, arrested and jailed at a sit-in Thursday, moved to the Duval County jail at Jacksonville Friday night. He was to be a witness at the hearing in Jacksonville today.

Leap Into GOP Race May Have Come Too Late

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton's sudden decision to challenge Sen. Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination stirred—if not electrified—party leaders across the country.

But many, including foes of Goldwater, wondered if the governor's move wasn't too late. In essence they asked, "Where was Scranton earlier?"

And a Rockefeller supporter remarked tartly, "Scranton and others like him sat on their hands too long."

There was certainly no sign in an Associated Press survey of party leaders of any break in the ranks of Goldwater backers after Scranton's announcement Friday.

Those who cheered the governor's leap into the race were previously uncommitted or were backing candidates other than Goldwater.

Move "Ill-Timed"

Typical of those who have been supporting Goldwater was Tennessee GOP chairman Harry Carbaugh who said, "I personally am standing foursquare with Goldwater. It appears to me that a group in the Republican party feels that they want to control the nomination and have talked Gov. Scranton into becoming an active candidate. This last minute effort to deny Goldwater the nomination I feel is ill-timed."

Michigan officials, on the other hand, welcomed Scranton's announcement. State party chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. said, "It creates a genuinely open convention. I think it's a strengthening thing to the party." And national committeeman John B. Martin hailed Scranton as "one of our most able and attractive political figures today."

Gov. George Romney, who flirted with the idea of running, said Michigan's 48-vote convention delegation will remain uncommitted. But he left no doubt he would consider Scranton an acceptable presidential nominee.

Timing Criticized

New York Assembly Speaker Joseph Carlino, a supporter of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, called Scranton's statement excellent but added, "This in no way will change my position or the position of the New York delegation to continue in support of Gov. Rockefeller."

Gov. Mark Hatfield, chairman of the Oregon delegation committed to Rockefeller on the first ballot, welcomed Scranton's announcement "because it assures an open convention in San Francisco."

Even some Goldwater backers, happy with their leader's big lead in delegates, approved Nevada's Lt. Gov. Paul Laxalt said, "I think it's a tremendously good development. It will make for a spirited open convention."

But many questioned the timing or the motive of Scranton's bid.

Lt. Gov. Ralph A. Foote, chairman of the Vermont delegation, said "You wonder if the announcement is directed at securing the nomination or for acquisition of a good chance at the second spot vice presidency."

Even those who oppose Goldwater voiced criticism. Said Joseph Martin Jr., who quit as California national committeeman to work for Rockefeller, Scranton's move is a "monster" that is "a monstrous" thing.

One variety store is offering as a $7.95 "special" a "monster" kit including wooden mallet, baseball bat, arrow, net and flashlight. One restaurant is featuring "monster" sandwiches.

Party Chairman, Woman Killed In M-46 Mishap

MUSKEGON (AP) — Democratic chairman Ralph Smith of Montcalm County and a woman passenger in his car were killed Friday when the car ran off M 46 and smashed into a tree.

Smith, father of 11 children and member of the Howard City Village Council, and Mrs. Elizabeth Middlecamp, 52, of Sparta, were on their way to work in Muskegon.

The Muskegon County sheriff's office said Smith apparently lost control of the car while passing a truck. Both Smith and Mrs. Middlecamp were employees of Continental Motors here. Mrs. Middlecamp is survived by her husband.

Sister Lakes 'Monster' May Be Big Bear

DOWAGIAC (AP) — The "monster" of nearby Sister Lakes has brought mixed emotions—most of them humorous—to this southwestern Michigan area.

But Cass County Sheriff Robert Dool says at least "a couple" families of migrant farm workers have packed and left in fear. Fruit farmers of the area say that labor's leaving at this point is serious since it is the peak of the strawberry harvest.

Conservation Officer Bill Roe, believe the reported apparition is nothing more than a bear far from its regular haunts, but brought to the area by the lure of swamp huckleberries. "Odds-on, that's what it probably is," he says.

Cars Come At Dusk

A Dowagiac newsman counted nearly two cars a minute in one 15-minute period of late dusk along Sister Lakes back roads as sightseers cruised the region.

One boy crept up to the newsman's truck and growled: "I'm Cecil the sea serpent."

A carload of teen-age girls squealed: "anyone seen a monster?"

Some drivers stopped to ask area residents for directions to the monster.

The Sister Lakes Chamber of Commerce denies any connection with the "monster" stories. Dool said his office has been flooded by telephone calls, one from Hollywood, Calif., asking for "monster details."

Sandwich Featured

Dowagiac coffee-break conversation is devoted almost entirely to "monster" talk and jokes.

The Dowagiac theater is featuring a double bill "horror" show.

Final Approval Of Rights Bill Due Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Senate floor manager for the civil rights bill, said today there is an excellent chance the House will accept the version the Senate is working on now.

"And I am confident," Humphrey said in an interview, "There will be no further changes of any substance."

If the Minnesota Democrat is correct on both counts, once the bill is passed by the Senate and the House concurs, it can go directly to President Johnson to be signed into law.

However, if the House does not accept the Senate changes, the bill will go to a conference committee to resolve differences in the versions passed by the House Feb. 10 and by the Senate. The result could be delay or even stalemate.

Acceptable To House

"We have been in the closest consultation with House leaders, and we feel the bill as it now stands is acceptable to them," Humphrey said.

He also expressed confidence the bill will get to Johnson before Congress quits for the Republican National Convention, which opens July 13 in San Francisco.

"I hope the President can sign it on the Fourth of July, giving a brand new meaning to that day," Humphrey said.

House leaders privately agree that action can be completed before the convention recess. But for this to happen, they say, the Senate must pass the bill next week.

Humphrey said the Senate would, and he predicted final action will come by Wednesday.

Indications that Humphrey may be right came before the Senate adjourned Friday when Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., announced hearings on a food stamp bill would open Thursday.

Food Stamps Next

There had been an agreement these sessions would begin as soon as the civil rights bill was out of the way, Humphrey said. The Minnesotan said action on amendments to the bill under cloture, imposed by the Senate Wednesday, has been faster than expected. Each senator now is limited to one hour of speaking time on the bill and all amendments.

The Senate is in session today as the leaders try to push the bill along.

Friday 11 changes proposed by Southerners were rejected and two minor changes, accepted by the bill's managers, were agreed to by voice vote.

Viet Cong Mines Derail 3 Trains, Kill Six Persons

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist Viet Cong mines derailed three trains and blew up two trucks Friday killing six persons, the Ministry of Defense announced.

It was one of the busiest days for Viet Cong saboteurs along the 600 mile Saigon-Wuag Tri Railroad line, South Viet Nam's only north-south rail link.

Elsewhere, government forces killed 13 Viet Cong 120 miles southwest of Saigon Friday when a government unit clashed with a Viet Cong force near Vinh Loi in Ba Xuyen Province.

The United States has set up a communications unit manned by a small contingent of U.S. Marines in Quang Tri Province near the borders of Laos and Communist North Viet Nam, an American military spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the Marines are performing internal security duties connected with the operation.

Arizona Solon Has Big Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's delegate total for the Republican national convention is continuing to swell despite Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton's entry into the contest for the party's presidential nomination.

The Arizona senator has 574 first-ballot votes, just 81 short of the 655 needed to nominate, according to The Associated Press survey of delegates.

Another 64 delegates were being chosen at Republican conventions today in Connecticut, New Mexico, Idaho and Virginia.

The AP poll, based on primary election commitments, pledges, instructions or state preference, gives this first ballot breakdown:

Barry Goldwater	574
Nelson A. Rockefeller	131
William W. Scranton	92
Henry Cabot Lodge	46
Margaret Chase Smith	15
Richard M. Nixon	14
Favorite sons	110
Uncommitted	217

The Connecticut state GOP convention at Hartford was expected to include four pro-Goldwater delegates in its 16-member delegation. Gov. Scranton addresses the convention today in his first speech since he announced his candidacy.

Youths Beat Man For 25 Cents

CHICAGO (AP) — Two teenagers have admitted to police that they fatally beat a 49-year-old Chicagoan in a robbery that netted 25 cents.

The youths, Willy James Council, 19, and James Jackson, 14, were arrested Friday.

The victim, C. J. Cowart, died shortly after he was attacked Tuesday.

First Salvos Are Fired At Sen. Goldwater

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton took a while to make up his mind, but moved in a hurry once he decided to go after the Republican presidential nomination.

By his own account, Scranton made the decision only hours before he announced it Friday in a sweltering, crowded hotel ballroom.

"Where will you start your campaign?" a reporter asked. "I just started it right here," the Pennsylvania governor replied. "Do we have any prescribed itinerary? No, not at this moment. We just decided to run last night."

Hour Is Late

Even before he told the Maryland GOP convention of his decision, Scranton was firing his first campaign salvos at front running Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

"Can we pretend, even to ourselves, that it is possible for us to stand with one foot in the 20th century and the other in the 19th?" Scranton asked.

"A stand must be made, but the hour is late," said the 46-year-old governor, who has spent the better part of a year insisting that only an honest draft would make him the Republican presidential nominee.

Scranton said he changed his mind when he decided the moderate Republican viewpoint was not going to be represented when it came time for the GOP national convention to pick its man.

Scranton's vow to battle Goldwater sounded an ironic echo of the theme the Arizona senator chose when he plunged into the race last January.

At his sprawling home near Phoenix, Goldwater had declared no other announced candidate—and only Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was in the race at that point—could "offer to the American people a clear choice in the next presidential election. I will offer a choice, not an echo."

Said Scranton Friday: "I have come here to offer our party a choice. I reject the echo that we have thus far been handed of fear, of reaction from the never-never land that puts our nation on the road backward to a lesser place in the world of free men."

Rising Highway Deaths Studied

LANSING (AP) — Immediate recommendations are needed on ideas to help curtail Michigan's mounting highway death and injury rate, Secretary of State James Hare said Friday.

Hare followed Gov. George W. Romney as one of the key speakers at the first meeting of the governor's special commission on traffic safety, held at the Lansing Civic Center.

"A most basic question must be," Hare said, "what can be done short of legislative appropriation and changes in Michigan statutes that will do something in the short range immediate future?"

Romney earlier had said citizen apathy must be corrected to make the people of Michigan realize the horror and dollar cost of highway slaughter.

Hare, also chairman of the State Safety Commission, said it should be recognized that any recommendations the blue ribbon panel might make to the governor for legislative action will be long delayed in effectiveness.

At best, he said, the laws passed by the 1965 legislature cannot become

Ore Centennial Dinner July 11

Tickets for the C & N W Recognition and Ore Centennial banquet to be held in Escanaba Area High School Saturday, June 11 are selling well, reports Wesley Hansen, general chairman of the celebration. The Senior Citizens Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce is in charge of ticket sales, under the direction of John A. Lemmer. Tickets are also available at the Chamber office and at Gust Asp's.

The banquet and the day's events will recognize the Chicago & North Western Railway and the ore industry for their economic aid to the port city of Escanaba. "With the new process of pelletizing ore and expenditure by the Chicago & North Western of $1,300,000 on the improvement of the Escanaba ore dock and the dredging we can look for an increase of tonnage through this facility," said Hansen.

Hansen said "the public is asked to support this recognition dinner through the purchase of tickets and attendance at the banquet. The event marks the 100th anniversary of both the C&NW operations and ore shipping in Escanaba harbor."

Tickets are $3.75 each and the banquet will be at 7 p. m. Hansen said the menu will offer: mixed vegetable juice, relish tray, filet of entrecote, rib eye steak au jus, baked potato with French dressing, French salad with French dressing, rolls, butter, chocolate cake and coffee.

Argentinian Is Guest At Rock

Delta County will again play host to an International Farm Youth Exchange student this year. Roberto D. Eddy, 26-year old farmer from Argentina, will be staying at the Elmer Lepisto home in Rock, from June 18 to July 5.

Last year an IFYE student from Switzerland, Charles Beson, spent two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weldum of Rock.

As a people-to-people program for promoting understanding, IFYE conducts two-way exchanges of rural young people and arranges for the participants to actually live and work on farms in rural communities. Through this experience, the exchanges are able to acquire a better understanding of the life of their rural hosts. They in turn carry on an extensive reporting program in their own country to promote understanding.

Eddy was occupied as a farmer raising vegetable crops, tulip bulbs, cattle and poultry. His special interests include milk production and bulb cultivation. His hobbies are mountain climbing, rugby, music and reading.

He speaks Spanish, Dutch and fluent English.

Eddy's stay in the county is being financed by the Escanaba Kiwanis Club.

Any Delta county organizations which would like to have a program presented by Eddy are asked to contact Larry Bradford, County 4-H Extension agent, at the County Building.

Don't Pick Up Fawns In Woods

With Michigan's deer herd in the midst of another fawning season, the Conservation Department is again asking outdoor-goers not to pick up these "babes in the woods."

The Department's plea is especially beamed at well-meaning people who get a strong urge to adopt fawns when they find these spotted little animals all alone in the forested nurseries.

It doesn't mean the youngsters have been orphaned just because their mother isn't around. Chances are she will be watching nearby as recreationists admire her newborn, or not far off seeking food and water.

It is illegal to molest fawns and other young wildlife.

Hurry Planting

Muskellunge rearing ponds at Wolf Lake hatchery near Kalamazoo are being rapidly drawn down by the Conservation Department in an emergency move to transfer more than 200,000 of these small fish into public waters before they eat themselves up.

Effects of DDT spraying wiped out the ponds' food supply for muskies, leaving the cannibalistic fish to feed upon themselves for survival.

Church School At Central Will Open Monday

The Central Methodist Vacation Church School will open Monday and will be in session daily from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. June 15-19 and June 22-26. The general theme is "Jesus."

The Kindergarten, four and five year olds, will be taught by Mrs. Nels Swanson, Mrs. Arthur Bolm, Miss Pamela TenHaken. The text is "Jesus, The Teacher" and the activities will be finger painting, poster painting and making individual flower vases to be used as gifts.

The teachers of the Primary first, second and third grades, are Mrs. John Broker, Mrs. Anna Harrod, Mrs. Roy Ness and Miss Phyllis Woodard. The text is "Jesus Showed God's Love." Projects are mosaic pictures, assembled village of Palestine and mural on the Life of Christ.

The text for the Junior Group, grades four, five and six, will be "He Was Called Jesus" and the teachers are Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Mrs. Ralph Erickson and Mrs. Ed Dahl. Activities will be dramas of events in Jesus' life and an illustrated TV scene and script on the Life of Jesus.

The Church School is under the direction of the superintendent, Francis Bolm, with trained help by Mrs. Herbert Ladin and Miss Marian Oliver.

Parent visitation is planned for the closing day of the Vacation Church School.

Beach Opening Slated June 22

The tentative date for the opening of the Municipal Bathing Beach has been set for Monday, June 22, it was announced by the Recreation Department this morning.

Lifeguards under the direction of Francis Lueneburg are working daily getting the swimming facilities in condition for another busy season.

Registration for swimming classes will begin at the beach on June 22 and continue through July 3. Classes will start on Monday, July 6, and instructions will be given on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday mornings at 10 o'clock for children who live in the City of Escanaba, and on Tuesday and Thursday mornings for youngsters who reside in the Townships.

Duck Prospect

Ducks Unlimited reports from Winnipeg for June: Good water conditions and increased waterfowl breeding population in Manitoba. Same bright situation in eastern Saskatchewan, but serious water shortage in western half of province and over-all breeding population same as '63. Water good in extreme southern Alberta and also improved waterfowl population. Sufficient water in northern parkland areas to produce duck crop.

Albert Seeley Taken By Death

GLADSTONE — Albert M. Seeley, 83, of 121 S. Court Street, Gladstone, died this morning of a self-inflicted gun wound.

He was born Dec. 29, 1880, in White Cloud, Mich., and had been a resident of Gladstone since 1914. He was a retired millwright for the Northwestern Co. at Gladstone.

His wife, Matilda, died in 1949. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Mildred Bazinet, Lansing; three sons, Clifford Seeley and Lloyd Seeley of Route 1 Gladstone; and Merriek Seeley, Gladstone; nine grandchildren, 10 great grandchildren, and one sister in Seattle.

The body was taken to the Skradski Funeral Home in Gladstone.

CHARMAINE KLEIMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kleiman, 614 S. 20th St., graduated Sunday, June 7, from Mercy School of Nursing in Ann Arbor. The commencement exercises were held in conjunction with the affiliate school in Detroit. The event took place in McAuley Auditorium in Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Kleiman with their children Cindy and Randolph attended. Miss Kleiman is a 1961 graduate of Escanaba High School.

MARINETE — Circuit Judge Arold Murphy, 68, will retire from that position, which he has held for 35 years. A graduate of Marquette University law school, Judge Murphy was elected to the 20th judicial circuit in 1929 and is completing his sixth-year term. He plans to enter private law practice with his son, James, who graduated from Marquette law school earlier this month.

HURLEY — Roy T. Traynor, 32, Hurley attorney, will seek the Democratic nomination for district attorney of Iron County in the Sept. 8 primary. He'll link his campaign to President Johnson's "war on poverty."

BESSEMER — Bessemer Lodge will host the fall Round-Up of the Upper Peninsula District of Elks, Sept. 25, 26 and 27. Plans were made and committees were appointed at a round-up organization meeting of the lodge this week.

IRON MOUNTAIN — State Senator Philip Rahoi, Iron Mountain, will be candidate for reelection to the state senate from the newly formed Second District, which includes Menominee County. Petitions have been filed in Lansing by Rahoi, one of the oldest members of the legislature in terms of initial service, beginning in 1935.

ONTONAGON — Republican National Committeeman John B. Martin, Grand Rapids, has sent word that Bill Stenson Sr., Greenland, has been selected as one of five men from Michigan who will be doormen at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco July 13. The Michigan delegation will be housed at the Jack Tar Hotel and Stenson must be there July 11 to begin his duties.

MENOMINEE — Menominee Board of Education has authorized Supt. Alex M. Nelson to qualify Menominee for federal assistance in its vocational education program. It will cover all age groups in the community and area. Plans call for several fields of instruction including business training, industrial arts, homemaking, etc.

Park Libraries

Library shelves of 47 state parks and recreation areas in Michigan have been filled with 8,000 books to help vacationers pass those rainy days and get more out of their fun-time excursions this summer. Soo Hearings Resume Monday

An Interstate Commerce Commission hearing on a Soo Line Railroad joint trackage rights proposal will be resumed in Marquette Monday.

The hearing is on a Soo Line application for the right to operate over Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad trackage from Marquette to Eben. If the application is approved by the ICC, the Soo would have a shorter route from the Marquette Range to Lake Michigan and to Chicago.

At present, traffic over the Soo moving to and from Marquette and Chicago must go out of its way through Marquette, Wis., on the west or out of its way through Trout Lake on the east.

Personals

Kathy Pepin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Pepin, 529 N. 19th St., left yesterday for Chicago and will continue by jet airliner Sunday evening to Washington, D. C. Miss Pepin will be employed at the Ambassador Hotel during the vacation months. She is a junior at Northern Michigan University.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kleiman recently returned from a trip to Lower Michigan, while there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sefa of Goodrich and attended a shower honoring their future daughter-in-law, Diana Sefa, Miss Sefa and Kenneth Kleiman, both of New York City, will exchange vows on June 20.

Sister Mary Paul Vardigan, Sister of Charity, from Dallas, Tex., arrived Friday evening for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Paul Vardigan, 1302 N. 18th St. This is Sister Paul's first visit home in 28 years.

Approval of the joint trackage right agreement would give the Soo a bridge for its two parallel main lines, which extended across the Upper Peninsula.

Soo traffic could then move directly south from Marquette over the LS&I line to Eben. At Eben, Soo traffic would connect with the Soo's branch to Rapid River.

In exchange for the right to operate on the LS&I's 30-mile line from Marquette to Eben, the Soo has given the LS&I right to the two-mile trackage serving the Empire Mine at Palmer.

The Soo was the only railroad originally serving the site of the Empire Mine, but there is now a four-party agreement for service. It includes the mining company, the LS&I, the Chicago & North Western Railway and the Soo.

Railroad companies opposing the Soo's request include the North Western, the Milwaukee Road and the Manistique & Lake Superior Railroad. The three roads contend that the Soo can't benefit by the proposal except at their expense.

Also opposing the Soo's application are the Marquette City Commission, The Marquette County Board of Supervisors, the Ishpeming City Commission and five Soo Line employ groups, as well as Manistique and Escanaba city councils.

They say that approval of the proposal would result in a loss of jobs and a loss of railroad service in the Upper Peninsula.

Richard (Dickie) Soper, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Soper of Flat Rock is listed in fair condition today at St. Francis Hospital. The boy was run over by a wagon, pulled by a tractor, while picking stones Friday at 5:40 p.m.

Dickie, with his four brothers were picking stones and putting them in the wagon when the boy slipped under the wheels and they ran over his face and chest.

He suffered a fractured rib and extensive bruises on his face. He was taken to St. Francis Hospital by ambulance at 6:30 p.m.

DeChantal Is Local Delegate

John E. DeChantal will represent Local 633, American Federation of Musicians, AFL-CIO, at its 67th annual convention in Portland, Ore., June 15.

Delegates will hear reports by President Herman Kenin; Secretary Stanley Ballard and elect international officers and executive board members. The convention, held every year since 1896 with the exception of the two war years, is governed by the union. Approximately 1,200 delegates will attend, representing some 700 locals and more than a quarter million professional musicians in the United States and Canada. Wives and guests attending are expected to swell the convention to over 2,000.

Romney At Cleveland

Announcement by Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania that he's a candidate for the Republican nomination for President at the San Francisco convention July 13 clears the air a bit, but in Michigan there remains a great to-do about Gov. George Romney's role in the Republican jockeying for the nomination.

When Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona capped his mounting pledges of delegate votes with a victory over Gov. Nelson Rockefeller in the California presidential primary he was rather generally conceded the nomination.

This pleased conservative elements of the Republican party but it created fear in liberal elements that Goldwater's nomination would worsen the Republicans' second best chance of winning the November election. The Republicans have won many recent victories on the strength of their candidates, and not basically on the strength of the party. This was true of the presidential victory of Dwight Eisenhower and it was true of the gubernatorial victories of George Romney in Michigan, William Scranton in Pennsylvania and Nelson Rockefeller in New York.

The candidate "image" for this reason becomes a very important party of party appeal. Goldwater is unacceptable to many Republicans on this basis. He voted against cloture this week to yank the civil rights bill out of committee and force a vote on it in the Senate. He makes our allies edgy. He has been critical of the United Nations, Social Security, our diplomatic relations with Russia and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

A Stop-Goldwater campaign grew out of this situation but it was tardy and came when Goldwater had about sewed up enough delegate votes to assure his nomination at San Francisco. President Eisenhower tried to use his great influence with the party by issuance of a statement of principles for selection of the nominee. It didn't fit Senator Goldwater, who had said earlier that one Eisenhower a generation was as much as America could stand. At the Governor's Conference in Cleveland, a major battlefield in the Stop-Goldwater War, Eisenhower reversed his field, dropped his quest for another candidate to oppose Goldwater. Ike had been the guest of his old friend, George Humphrey, a strong Goldwater supporter and maybe he influenced him; certainly something did.

At the Governor's Conference Michigan's Governor Romney said he'd do everything except become a candidate himself to prevent Barry Goldwater from winning the GOP nomination. His plan was to hobble Goldwater with a Republican national platform which would curb some of his enthusiasms, although the means by which a party makes a president conform to a party platform isn't evident in history.

Romney's effort to halt Goldwater at Cleveland resulted in his being clobbered politically at home. Free Press Columnist Jack Manning, who had been praising Romney the week before, said "Knowing even the A. B. Cs of politics, he should realize Barry surely was going to be the main GOP fighter against the Democratic rulers. Also he should have been less vague than charging that Goldwater's views 'do not square with the principles for which the Republicans stand.'"

Goldwater himself said "Romney sounds more like Harold Stassen every day."

(Stassen is the former boy governor of Minnesota who has ended a meteoric political career as a perennial loser for high political office.)

Zolton Ferency, Michigan Democratic chairman, played his familiar theme with a non sequitur that Romney could not be trusted and had presidential aspirations.

There seems to be considerable public impression that Romney came off badly at Cleveland; that he let himself be a tool of Richard Nixon and others trying to purge Goldwater. But some of the professional commentators didn't see it that way.

Glenn Engle, Detroit News political writer said "his steadfast opposition to dominant GOP forces backing conservative Senator Barry Goldwater may have long range benefit on the national scene."

"Collapse of the stop-Goldwater coalition, aided by former President Eisenhower," wrote Engle "left Romney more than ever as 'lonesome George.' Other moderate-to-liberal Republican governors have shown no inclination to buy many Goldwater views on foreign or domestic issues, but they have all but conceded him the presidential nomination."

"Still Romney showed no signs of weakening on his determination to fight to keep Goldwater from the nomination unless he clarifies his views on civil rights, foreign policy and what Romney calls a growing concentration of economic power in corporations and labor unions."

"Even the political pros who figure Romney darkened his political future conceded him one thing: Courage. His bold move stood out among a series of ambiguous, say-nothing statements. Political dopesters on the national scene speculated that Romney would be remembered as the standout in the group of state chief executives if Goldwater is nominated and then crushed by President Johnson in November."

Goldwater's nomination would leave Romney running in a presidential year with edgy relations with the national ticket. His Democratic foe, Neil Staebler, will be linked to Johnson in the Michigan campaign like Damon and Pythias. This is a neat switch. In the last campaign the Democrats kept Johnson out of Michigan because he had been nominated for vice president over the protests of labor-led Michigan Democrats.

Romney has lost some votes but probably gained others. November will tell.

Detroit Plans Poverty Attack

DETROIT (AP)—Mayor Jerome Cavanagh is planning a massive local version of President Johnson's war on poverty.

But the program hinges on Michigan's $10.5 million minimum share of a money bill pending in Congress. This would be the state's slice of the $1 billion Economic Opportunities Act. Cavanagh hopes to get a major share for Detroit.

The new program is to be called Total Action Against Poverty (TAAP). A spokesman for Cavanagh said the project would absorb a 50 per cent federally subsidized Community Action for Detroit Youth (CADDY) program. The Economic Opportunities Act would provide 90 per cent Federal financing.

"All the federal government had for the national juvenile delinquency program was $25 million over three years and this is the last year," explained called Total Action Against Poverty (TAAP). A spokesman

"Well, the One in Pisa's Been an Attraction for Years!"

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Despite President Johnson's denials, the United States is now seriously considering ways to bring military-economic pressure on Ho Chi Minh's North Viet Nam.

These plans will be held for use in an emergency.

One proposal would aim the first military moves at the north's already wobbly economy. There would be increasing sabotage of communications — bridges, roads, shipping. There would be a partial land and sea blockade of Red Ho's supply lines.

Veiled threats of these U. S. actions would come first. But these threats would be coupled with suggestions of possible economic aid (principally rice and other foods) and trade. There would be hints of a willingness to guarantee Ho's borders.

It would be made clear that these promises would be fulfilled only if Ho would take his cadres out of Laos and tell the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam that they were now on their own.

Some tacticians favor parallel moves in the United Nations to guarantee the borders of Laos, South Viet Nam, Cambodia and North Viet Nam.

The program calls for a gradual step-up of harassment and threats of harassment, alternating with repeated promises of aid.

Neither Secretary of State Dean Rusk's strategists nor Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's aides believe these moves would end the war either in Laos or in South Viet Nam.

They estimate the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam are now able to put up a strong fight without aid from Ho's northern Communist regime.

They think the Communist Pathet Lao troops in Laos could hold their own against the Lao neutralist and conservative troops without the aid of North Vietnamese cadres.

But a group of key government men do believe that if North Viet Nam would, under this pressure, withdraw its support from the Red forces in Laos and in South Viet Nam, the two wars would become more manageable.

Some of these strategists also believe there is a chance that North Viet Nam's Ho could become an Asian Tito. These men believe it is worth a gamble to find out if this is so.

Information arriving here from North Viet Nam is that Ho himself is not sold on co-operating with Red China and that his advisers are split fairly evenly on China versus Russia. About half favor an alliance with Khrushchev and the Soviet Union; the other half favor Red Mao Tse-tung of China. A recent decision to side with Mao is believed causing a struggle within the regime.

There are constant complaints from some of Ho's advisers about the economic drain of the South Vietnamese war. These men have in fact urged that the Viet Cong in the south be given words of praise, but told they will have to handle their own war.

U. S. planners want to encourage this defeatist attitude in the north.

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

The other day Trooper Carl Scales, of the Manistique post State Police stopped a motorist from Lower Michigan and handed him a ticket for speeding. Today Justice E. J. Doyle got a letter from the motorist enclosing a check to pay the fine and a note of thanks for the arrest. "Before I got home I passed the scene of a horrible accident. It might have been me," the writer said.

C. E. Richards of Watersmeet was elected district governor of area Lions Clubs in the closing hours of the Lions Club annual convention held in Escanaba yesterday. He succeeds Waldo MacRae of Marquette.

Yesterday's parade at the Lions Club convention was marred by a runaway in which several people were injured, none seriously. A team of shetland ponies pulling a float, sponsored by the St. Ignace Lions Club, became frightened and raced down the street, at one point plunging into the crowd.

Oakland Heights Women Snub New Water Tower

PONTIAC (AP) — Some 20 women of Lake Oakland Heights held a party—in the middle of the street — Thursday so they could snub a 750,000-gallon water tower.

The party was a success. With lawn chairs and an umbrella-topped table blocking the street, workmen couldn't drive their trucks through to work on the tower, which residents claim would lower their property values.

Police stood by but let the party proceed. They said they didn't consider it a traffic interference since the street dead-ends.

Vernon Luft, field supervisor for Raymond Concrete Pile Co. of nearby Detroit, said he had asked his firm to seek an injunction against the blockade.

Paul Valentino, attorney for the community's 300 families, said a pre-trial hearing is scheduled for June 23 in Oakland County Circuit Court in a suit charging erection of the tower would create a nuisance, violate zoning regulations and devalue property.

Inland Invests In Trade Abroad

Inland Steel Co. today announced that two of its subsidiaries have made investments in foreign firms engaged in similar lines of activity.

Inland's steel service center subsidiary, Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, Inc., has purchased a 13 per cent interest in Solpek, Ltd., which operates a steel warehousing business and certain steel processing activities in Israel.

Inland's steel building products subsidiary, Inland Steel Products Co., has purchased a 50 per cent interest in Proflati Somaglia, an Italian company making steel building components and located near Milan. The company is one of the important manufacturers of steel building products in Europe, although it has been in business for only a few years. Its products include steel roofs and floor decks, wall panels, nailable framing sections and a wide range of cold-rolled sections.

Ryerson had previously announced its first entry into the foreign field last year when it established a steel processing center, Ryerson-Holland, N.V. in the Netherlands, near Amsterdam, in partnership with the Dutch firm of Van der Vliet & de Jonge.

A third Inland unit, Inland Steel Container Co., which manufactures drums and pails, carries on a research and development program with the world-wide Van Leer group of container manufacturing companies which headquarters in the Netherlands. The two organizations jointly operate a research laboratory in Passfield, England.

Artist Chosen For Portrait Of Ex-Gov. Swainson

LANSING (AP) — The artist who did the pictures of Marilyn Monroe and Katherine Hepburn has been commissioned to paint the official portrait of former Gov. John Swainson.

The painting will hang in the rotunda of the State Capitol. Bernard Klein, chairman of the Swainson Portrait Committee announced the selection of Stephen Davis, of Grosse Pointe, for the painting project.

"It is the opinion of the committee that Mr. Davis shows fine rapport with Gov. Swainson and is particularly well qualified and talented to present the warmth and spirit of the former governor," Klein said.

The portrait is expected to be completed next fall. Presentation ceremonies are planned for late this year at the Capitol.

Ann Landers

Trying To Be A Good Mother

Dear Ann Landers: Recently in reply to a mother who was concerned about her daughter you wrote, "If you have done your job well you need not worry." What I would like to know is, how do I know if I am doing my job well?"

Our three children are from two to eight years of age. I try to be a good mother but I keep wondering what I am doing wrong — or worse yet, leaving undone.

I dread the time when our children will be teen-agers. I hear and read so much about today's "teen-age monsters" that I wonder if I will be able to cope with them. Most of my friends whose children are older than ours have their hands full and they don't know where to turn.

What can I do NOW to instill in our children the proper values so they will grow up to be solid, well-adjusted adults? LOOKING AHEAD.

Dear Looking: The fact that you are thinking NOW of how to instill in your children decent values so that they will be solid, well-adjusted adults is good evidence that you yourself are solid and sensible.

A mother's instincts are far better than all the advice in the world. May I suggest a few guidelines to backstop the instincts?

Let your children know you love them and that they are important to you. Make each child feel worthy and useful in his own right so he will not be driven to out-do his brothers and sisters in a compulsive or destructive manner.

Insist that each child accept responsibility for himself and his belongings. Children who grow up with chores to do develop a living pattern of dependability, cooperation and usefulness.

Be consistent. Say what you mean and mean what you say. Give your children everything they have coming — both rewards and punishment.

Make friends of your children. Keep the arteries of communication open. Talk to them and listen to them when they talk to you. This should start at birth. The parents who wait until their children are "old enough to understand" wake up to find that that day has come and gone and that somehow they missed it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband passed away last year and left very little insurance. I don't want to leave my pre-school children home and go to work now because they have no father they need me more than ever. I read an ad seeking someone to address envelopes at home which sounds tempting. It promises at least $50 a week. Is there a catch somewhere? How do I find out? — MILLIE.

Dear Millie: There may be a catch. Write for the particulars and ask your Better Business Bureau to look at the material they send you. Some of these make-money-at-home outfits are curvy. What they really want to do is grab your dollar by selling you special equipment, an instruction book, or stationery. Once hooked, they'll tell you your work is not up to standard — and you've been had.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's mother passed away recently. Several of our friends sent lovely floral offerings which we appreciated a great deal.

When some of these friends came to call after the funeral, we thanked them for their beautiful flowers and told them how much it meant to us that they had been so thoughtful.

Yesterday I told my husband I was ordering some personally monogrammed white note paper so I could write thank-you notes to all the people who had sent flowers. He said, "It isn't necessary. We thanked most of the people verbally."

I feel we should send notes, even if we did thank them in person. He insists I am wrong. Am I Please settle it. — MES.

Dear MES: He IS wrong. Go ahead and send the thank-you notes. When folks go to the trouble and expense to say it with flowers, the least you can do is say it in writing.

Do you lack self-confidence, have trouble making friends? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Be Well-Liked," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

MANISTIQUE
Marsha Rich Bride
Of Thomas Klarich

The Rev. Father Terrance Donnelly solemnized the 10 a.m. double ring wedding ceremony today for Marsha Diane Rich and Thomas James Klarich, in St. Francis de Sales Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Walter Rich, 129 Pearl St., and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Klarich, Rte. 1, Manistique.

Susan Meron, friend of the bride, served as maid of honor and John Klarich, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Jerry Rich, the bride's brother and George Klarich, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of white silk organza with a matching lace jacket, long tapered sleeves and high rounded neckline. Her ballerina length veil was silk tulle fastened to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white gladioli and lily of the valley.

The maid of honor's dress was pale daceon and cotton with which she wore pink accessories. Her bouquet was pink Marguerite daisies and blue sweetheart roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rich chose a two-piece sheath dress of blue lace with her accessories were beige. Her corsage was pink sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Klarich wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and pink sweetheart roses formed her corsage.

A reception will be held at the Birthday Grange in Gulliver from 5 to 9 p.m.

The couple will live at 312 Maple St., Manistique.

The bride and bridegroom are both Manistique High School graduates.

County Board
Meets June 25

A special meeting of the Schoolcraft Board of Supervisors will be held at 10 a.m., June 25 in the courthouse. Business will include action on a resolution for an FAA increase in federal project appropriations for the Schoolcraft airport. Appointment of a county library board is also on the agenda.

Coming before the board will be an airport agreement with Vern Bernard, reports of building and grounds, city-county building, county road and audit committees, and a report on the Army Corps of Engineers study and recommendation for flood control on Indian Lake and Manistique river.

The agenda also includes action on requests for four veteran burial allowances, a report from Francis Morrison on a health meeting, and proposals for commendation resolutions to Arthur Demers and Lawrence Boyd.

The audit committee meets at 10 a.m., June 20.

Closing Party For Senior Citizens

Sixty-six members of the Senior Citizens Social Club enjoyed a smorgasbord Thursday night at Marco's Starlite Room. Following the dinner cards were on the agenda until 9 p.m. with prizes for each table. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing old time dances to the music of Gro-leau's Orchestra. Three guest prizes were awarded. This will be the last party until September.

Mrs. Peter Logan is president of the Club which has an enrollment of 75 and meets every second Wednesday at Club 314. Miss Lillian Rowe is vice-president and Herman Kosbab is treasurer. There will be election of officers in the fall.

green crepe two piece dress with lace overblouse, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and yellow rosebuds for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Miller's ensemble was a pale pink silk and lace two-piece dress, pink and white accessories and a white carnation and pink rosebud corsage.

Mr. Miller and his bride toured the Upper Peninsula during their honeymoon. Guests at their wedding were from Iron Mountain, Manistique, Ontonagon, Detroit, Green Bay and Escanaba.

Elizabeth Miller, Dennis Wendt Wed

Marriage vows were repeated today by Elizabeth Ann Miller, daughter of Mrs. Margery Miller of 316 N. 14th St., Escanaba, and William J. Miller of Lansing, and Dennis E. Wendt, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Wendt of Escanaba.

Father Jordan Telles, O. F. M., pastor, performed the 10 a.m. double ring ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial High Mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Escanaba.

The wedding breakfast for the bridal party and immediate family members was served at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dagenais on M-35. The reception for 300 guests will be held at Marco's Starlite Room from 4 to 8 and will be followed by dancing.

The altar of the church was adorned with two vases filled with white gladioli and apricot carnations. Pewes were marked with white satin bows and lemon foliage. An arrangement of white carnations and snapdragons graced the altar of the Blessed Virgin. Music of the wedding was provided by St. Joseph's Choir.

Bride's Ensemble
The bride wore a floor length gown of white silk linen. The bell shaped skirt was fashioned to a fitted bodice with elbow length sleeves and a portrait neckline. Re-embroidered Venice lace bands accented the neckline, sleeves and hemlines, as well as the edge of the detachable train. A crown of seed pearls, tipped with aurora crystallettes held her veil of pure silk illusion. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations and ivy, centered with a white orchid. She was given in marriage by her uncle, William J. Mulvaney.

Maid of honor for her cousin was Miss Mary Jo Marcoe of Escanaba and bridesmaids were Miss Charlotte Holmes of Trenton and Miss Patricia Mahler of Milwaukee. Thomas Vermullen of Milwaukee was Mr. Wendt's best man. Grooms-men were Robert W. Miller, a brother of the bride, who came from Los Angeles for the wedding, and Prentiss Beveridge of Marquette.

Little Jane Ann Dagenais, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dagenais, was flower girl, and Terry Mulvaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mulvaney, also the bride's cousin, served as ring bearer.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore identical gowns of apricot silk organza over matching taffeta. The fitted bodice of the dresses featured a scoop neckline and short sleeves. The controlled full skirt was fashioned of unpressed pleats, clustered at the left front with a self rose. Their headpieces were short veils held by a bow of apricot silk organza. They carried arm baskets of natural reed filled with yellow roses, yellow daisies and apricot carnations.

Flower Girl
Jane Ann's floor length frock was made of white corded organza, with square neckline, short puffed sleeves and an empire waist, detailed with a grosgrain ribbon bow. Her short veil was gathered to a bow of white organza. She carried a white basket filled with yellow and white daisies and yellow roses.

The bride's mother selected a one-piece sleeveless dress of blue lace with a softly shaped jacket. Blue and white accessories complemented her costume. She wore a corsage of white carnations and blue forget-me-nots. Mrs. Lena Wendt, the bridegroom's grandmother, wore black and light blue accessories and a corsage of white and light blue tinted carnations with her dress of navy blue velvet, fashioned with round neckline and short sleeves.

The centerpiece of the bridal table at the reception will be an arrangement of white snapdragons and carnations, and apricot carnations. Miss Marion Mulvaney, an aunt of the bride and Mrs. Noah Marcoe, a cousin of the bridegroom, will preside at the guest book and the gift table will be in charge of Mrs. David Nordin and Mrs. Rene Marcoe.

Jane Sanderson Wed To Thomas Garity

In an 11 a. m. ceremony today at All Saints Catholic Church in Gladstone, Jane Davey Sanderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Sanderson of 1224 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone, became the bride of Thomas Peter Garity. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garity of Houghton.

The double ring service was solemnized by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. LaViolette.

The bride's honor attendant was her sister, Mary, best man was Guy Couture of Hancock and ushers were Ted Volin, Houghton and Robert Sanderson, a brother of the bride.

Completing the bridal party were Jean Dehlin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Dehlin, Gladstone, who had the role of flower girl, and Charles Sanderson, young brother of the bride, who carried the rings on a white satin pillow, adorned with a single red rose.

Antique Silk
The bride's gown of antique silk was floor length with a princess bodice trimmed with seed pearls and crystals, and a chapel train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was fingertip length, caught to a crystal crown. A single red rose was on the cover of the white misal she carried.

Her honor attendant wore a gown of white chiffon over satin with blue cummerbund and trim and a back bow. A blue bow was in her hair and she carried a wicker basket filled with blue daisies.

The little flower girl's frock was white organza with white satin trim, and a white bow day at All Saints Catholic Church in Gladstone, Jane Davey Sanderson, daughter of heart roses and blue daisies from which she scattered petals in the path of the bride.

At Log Cabin
Mrs. Sanderson's blue sheath with chiffon overskirt was complemented by white accessories. An orchid was on the cover of her misal. Mrs. Garity chose a white silk sheath with pink rose trim, white accessories and a pink rose corsage.

The luncheon-reception for 100 guests was held at the Log Cabin. The couple will reside temporarily in Kipling. The bride, a graduate of Gladstone High School, attended Suomi College, and presently is with the offices of Escanaba Division of Mead Corporation. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Houghton High School and Michigan Technological University and is with Knapp-Styles. His fraternity is Theta Tau.

Mrs. Duane (Isabel) Stanner of Sunnyvale, Calif., a sister of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Armin Kohelpe of Eau Claire, Wis., and guests from Marquette and Houghton attended the wedding.

Cluster Homes Provide Parks

The constant struggle to find more land for residential housing has generated a number of controversies and many proposals for a solution.

Generally, there are two opposing schools of thought: those who believe our present zoning restrictions encourage an appalling waste of land; and those who insist that the building of houses too close together lowers values and causes eventual neighborhood deterioration. Between the two are sponsors of various types of plans designed to utilize existing land in suitable areas, yet retain some of the advantages of life in the wide, open spaces.

One of these latter plans, already in effect in some parts of the country, is called cluster-housing or cluster development. It calls for one part of a large tract of land to be used for housing, the other part to be used for parks, recreational facilities and other open-space activities, with as little change in the natural topography as possible. One of the backers of this idea is the American Conservation Association, a non-profit organization. It has just turned out a book on cluster development, written by William H. Whyte, author of "The Organization Man" and "Is Anybody Listening?"

The entire subject of cluster development gets a thorough airing by Whyte, who delves into the economics, merchandising methods and practical aspects of it, as well as its esthetic values. He also comes up with something relatively new—the idea of linking cluster developments to give residents even more open space than they would have in a single, isolated cluster community.

"Cannot," he asks, "the separate spaces be linked together? Here is the great opportunity for cluster. The open space of a cluster subdivision may be functional in itself, but it becomes far more so if tied in with the open spaces of other cluster developments."

In some communities, cluster housing has met with strong resistance. It has been rejected

House of the Week

Streamlined Livability

An inexpensive but extremely clever departure from conventional two-story construction gives this basically Early American home just enough of a contemporary tone to make it exciting both inside and out.

Architect Samuel Paul designed the home as H-35 in the House of the Week series—and added support to the old maxim that good things do come in small packages.

Paul's unusual innovation is a separate and raised formal living room wing, with true cathedral ceiling and adjoining covered rear porch.

He achieved it by redistributing the second floor area so that there are no rooms above the living room. Then he exploited the shift by elevating the space. The result is not only a soaring cathedral ceiling on the inside, but a streamlined exterior as well.

Moreover, elevating the living room enables an option of basement plans: either a partial basement under the living room only (plainly the more economical choice), or a full basement under the entire first floor.

There's another optional feature in the house, in the kitchen. Paul's plan shows a built-in snack bar, which could be hinged to fold back and allow a regular dinette table, or eliminated completely. The choice is up to the owner.

The house is securely in the medium-small category despite its abundance of livable space. The first floor contains 965 square feet of living area; the upstairs 1,009 square feet. The

Additional Details
Creative design features abound in this tidy home—none of them expensive frills, but all touches of the sort that give the house personality.

Not the least of these is a spacious deck adjoining the master bedroom upstairs. This is no decorative balcony; it's a 116-square-foot private relaxing area that completes an already lavishly comfortable master bedroom suite. On the opposite end of the room is a dressing room with four closets, a built-in vanity, and an adjoining full bath with a 5'6" tub.

Elsewhere upstairs are three nice sized family bedrooms, all with large closets, a family sized main bathroom with double lavatories, and a hallway wide enough to accommodate house cleaning paraphernalia with ease.

The downstairs features a flagstone floored reception foyer with double closets, a stone planter, and an open staircase to the second floor. An attractive grille divides the stair and living room, and there is another planter at the platform level of the stair.

On the other side of the foyer is the formal dining room with a projecting front bay. To the rear is the family room and the optional snack bar.

The kitchen - family room-service room ensemble rates well in this home.

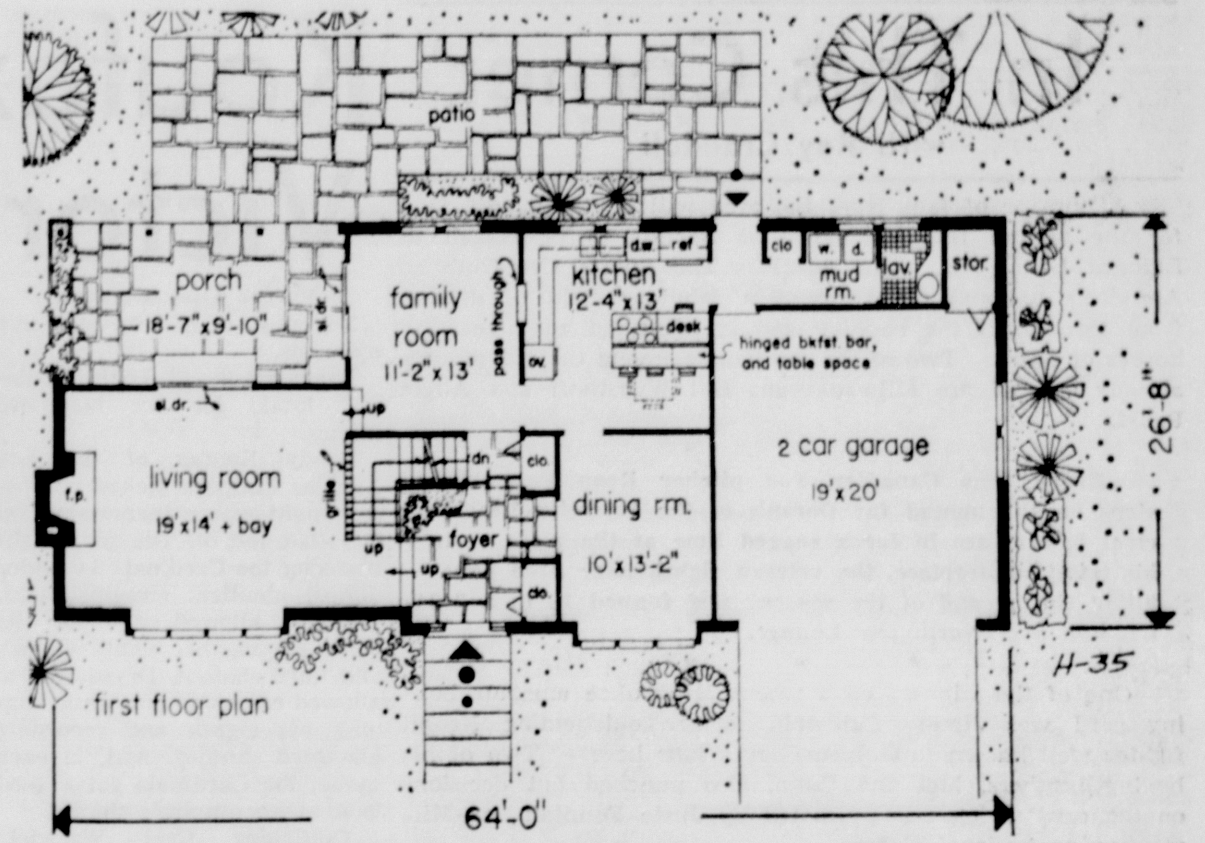

In the kitchen itself there is plenty of counter space, a double sink, double oven, built-in dishwasher, sit-down desk and the optional snack bar.

A pass-through permits easy service to the family room. Adjoining on the other side is the service area with laundry space, a closet and lavatory. The rear service entry is excellently located here.

But surely the most dramatic feature of all is the raised living room with its booming ceiling, handsome fireplace, bay window and adjoining 209-square-foot covered porch.

Mother Receives Degree At 66

YPSILANTI (AP)—Eastern Michigan University confers a degree tonight on 66-year-old Mrs. Elsie W. Barnes.

All the members of Mrs. Barnes' family, including a son, Dr. James M. Barnes, head of EMU's Department of Physics and Astronomy, plan to be present.

Mrs. Barnes, who is to receive a bachelor of science degree, achieved it over a space of many years while she raised a family and worked as a reporter on the Ypsilanti Press.

Her husband, J. Milton Barnes, 69, retired typesetter, has agreed provisionally for Mrs. Barnes to teach part-time in EMU's Fine Arts Department.

"I kind of hope she stays around home most of the time," Barnes said.

A number of fans from the area will be taking off soon for the annual International June Sprints to be staged at Elkhart Lake, Wis., June 20-21. The Sports Car Club of America's national event draws a fabulous field of drivers from throughout the country and is witnessed each year by hordes of fans. Two of the top names among the 155 drivers already entered are Milwaukeeans Bill Wuesthoff and Augie Pabst.

Every time Canadian Soo pitcher Reno Pettenuzzo steps on the mound for Doran's of the Inter-city League, rival batters are in for a rugged time at the plate. In his latest masterpiece, the veteran righthander fired a no-hitter (his second of the season) and fanned 12 in a 2-0 triumph over Northview Lounge.

One of the winners on a recent Milwaukee amateur boxing card was Jimmy Caldwell, former outstanding Neopit fighter well known to Golden Gloves fans here. Two of his boxing brothers, Mel and Colin, also punched out decisions on the card which was promoted by Juste Fountain, ex-Milwaukee professional fighter.

The Kingsford Connie Mack baseball team, composed of most of the players who made up the Kingsford high school team that captured the Menominee Range Conference crown this spring, lost its first start of the season this week. Norway scored a 4-1 Connie Mack decision over Kingsford as Ron Warner scattered seven hits. Dick Berlinski had three of the — a triple, double and single — in the losing cause.

Julius Kallman of the host Delta County Sportsmen's Club, was the top shooter in Class C in the matches here last weekend and bowed to Jack Avery of Negaunee in a shootoff for top gun honors. Tom Grenfell of Escanaba was tops in Class B. Walter Daley of Negaunee had 25 straight in skeet shooting and ran his string to 100 in a row following completion of other competition.

Babe Ruth Loop To Open Monday

The Escanaba Babe Ruth league swings into action Monday night at the league field on south 14th street with Kiwanis meeting Escanaba Banks in the opening game at 6. Tuesday night's program brings together Insurance Agents Association and Harnischfeger Local 632 and on Wednesday evening Mead Paper clashes with Teamsters Local 328.

Kiwanis manager Harold Johnson will start Bob Irish in the opener and Bankers mentor, Tom Elegeert, will go with Roger Gayan. Tuesday night Harnischfeger manager, Joe Richards, will throw Gerald Richards at Insurance and Manager Dave Rivard's choice will probably put Lee Rabi-taille on the opposing mound. Last year's champion Mead Paper, with Louis Kitzitzky back at the helm, will send Butch LaBay to the firing line and he will be opposed by John Stacey according to Kenneth Peterson, Teamster Pilot.

The Babe Ruth baseball program was first organized in Escanaba in 1952 and is in its 13th season. Nationally, Babe Ruth baseball has experienced phenomenal growth, due to deserved recognition of its value as wholesome recreation for 13, 14, and 15 year old boys. Locally, the program provides an organized, supervised activity to the youth of the area, enhancing the welfare of the community through benefits to the participants and their families.

The following sponsors and managers are directly responsible for the success of the program: Mead Paper Company, Louis Kitzitzky; Teamsters Local 328, Kenneth Peterson and Richard Erickson; Escanaba Banks, Tom Elegeert, Jr., Tom Elegeert, Sr., and Bill Pfister; Insurance Agents Association, Dave Rivard and Joe Young; Harnischfeger Local 632, Joe Richards; Kiwanis Club, Harold Johnson and Jack Beck.

The umpires engaged for this season are Ken Myllyla, Bob Dufour and Glenn Gamble. Myllyla and Gamble will work the week-day games with Myllyla and Dufour making the decisions on Saturday.

The week's schedule follows: MONDAY — Kiwanis Club vs. Escanaba Banks at 6; TUESDAY — Insurance Agents Association vs. Harnischfeger Local 632 at 6.

WEDNESDAY — Teamsters Local 328 vs. Mead Paper Company at 6. SATURDAY — Teamsters Local 328 vs. Escanaba Banks at 10; Mead Paper vs. Harnischfeger Local 632 at 1; Kiwanis vs. Insurance Agents Association at 3.

Boys who haven't already done so are asked to pick up their uniforms at Club 314 on Monday or Tuesday. Registration blanks may be turned in to their managers before game time.

U.P. Hockey Club Mails Fee; League Meeting Set

MARQUETTE — The Upper Peninsula Hockey Club took a major step toward entering the United States Hockey League, when they forwarded their franchise fee to league commissioner Hal Trumble.

J. Allan Russell, business manager of the club, said today that the league would meet on June 20 to discuss approval of the club's franchise and to make final scheduling arrangements. Russell and other club officers will go to Madison, Wis. for the meeting. June 10 was the deadline set by the league for the advance sale of 800 season tickets as a provision to the fran-

Koufax Fashions Eighth Victory Over Cardinals

By The Associated Press
No runs, eight hits and five ejections. Those are the St. Louis Cardinals' totals for the last two games.

Sandy Koufax of the Los Angeles Dodgers picked up Friday night where teammate Don Drysdale left off Thursday night blanking the Cardinals 3-0 under almost identical circumstances.

Koufax allowed only four hits while posting his eighth victory and third shutout. Drysdale also allowed only four hits while winning his eighth and recording his third shutout. And, in each game, the Cardinals got a good look at an umpire's thumb.

Outfielder Carl Warwick, pitcher Ernie Broglio and infielder Julian Javier were thrown out Thursday in two separate arguments.

The Cardinals made a decided improvement Friday, losing two men in one argument. Manager Johnny Keane and pitcher Bob Gibson were ejected for arguing on a force play at second base in the Cardinals' half of the eighth.

And while they haven't won any arguments recently, the Cardinals have managed to lose quite regularly. They now have lost eight of their last 11 games and 14 of their last 20.

The Cardinals have skidded to a tie for sixth but still are only four games behind National League leading Philadelphia.

The Phillies were walloped by the New York Mets 11-3 but remained six percentage points in front of the second-place San Francisco Giants, who lost to Milwaukee 4-3.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati Joe Nuxhall shut out Houston 3-0 and the Chicago Cubs belted Pittsburgh 7-1.

The Dodgers scored the only run Koufax, 8-4, needed in the fourth inning against Ernie Broglio, 3-5, when Willie Davis reached base on a force out, and came around on singles by Wally Moon and Tommy Davis.

The Dodgers added two runs in the seventh on a hit batter, a walk, an error by Julian Javier and a single by Tommy Davis.

Joe Christopher drove in three runs for the Mets—two with a homer—and sparked two uprisings. He drove in a run with a key single as the Mets batted around for five runs in the third and capped a four-run seventh with his homer. Christopher also tripled in the ninth and scored on a wild pitch.

Tracy Stallard, tagged for Richie Allen's 12th homer, won it for a 4-7 record. Dennis Bennett, 7-4, took the loss.

Eddie Mathews hit a two-run homer for the Braves and Harvey Kuenn hit one for the Giants but Milwaukee scored the clincher in the eighth on singles by Hank Aaron, Lee Maye and Joe Torre off Gaylord Perry. That ended Perry's string of scoreless innings in relief at 23.

Jack Smith had saved it for the Braves when he relieved in the seventh after the Giants loaded the bases with none out. He got Willie Mays to hit into a double play as the tying run scored, then struck out Orlando Cepeda.

Joe Nuxhall, 6-3, checked the Colts on seven hits for his fourth shutout while Frank Robinson provided two of the Reds' runs off Ken Johnson with a homer and a sacrifice fly. The homer was No. 13 for Robinson.

It was the first meeting between the two pitchers since April 23 when Johnson pitched a no-hitter and lost to Nuxhall 1-0 as the Reds scored in the ninth inning on two errors.

The Cubs struck for six runs in the sixth inning to beat the Pirates, the first grand-slam homer of Joey Amalfitano's career capping the sudden uprising.

Bob Veale had allowed only one hit when he lost his control. Two walks and a single by Billy Williams produced a run, Veale wild pitched another home and then Elroy Face came on, intentionally walked Ernie Banks and made his first pitch to Amalfitano too good.

McGaha's Debut At Kansas City Is Unsuccessful

By The Associated Press
Sam McDowell is through experimenting, but for Mel McGaha the end came two years too late.

McDowell is the left-handed fireballer of the Cleveland Indians who is making his third attempt to stay in the majors. McGaha managed the Indians in 1962, when McDowell's rookie season was punctuated by a trip to the minors.

McGaha made his debut as manager of the Kansas City Athletics Friday night but lost a 3-0 decision to Cleveland. McDowell stopped the Athletics on four hits for his third victory without a defeat since returning to the Indians two weeks ago.

The 21-year-old hurler started experimenting with his pitching not long after he signed with the Indians four years ago for a reported $100,000.

McDowell, expected to follow in the style of Bob Feller and Herb Score, won three games and lost seven while compiling a 6.03 earned run average as a rookie. The experiments didn't help last season either as he finished with a 3-5 record and a 4.35 ERA.

Then came Portland in the Pacific Coast League, where he stopped testing, starting pitching and won eight games without a defeat.

One day after starting his third, and possibly last, trial with the Indians, he won in relief. Two days later he beat the Chicago White Sox 3-2. Now he's won three games, allowed only 1.55 runs per game and struck out 39 batters in 29 innings.

McDowell's performance Friday night was just one of five complete games by AL pitchers. Steve Hamilton and Whitey Ford went the distance as the New York Yankees swept the league-leading White Sox 6-1 and 3-0, Camilo Pascual and Minnesota outlasted Washington 5-3 and Boston whipped Baltimore

Griffith Keeps Welter Crown

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — New York's Emile Griffith remains the welterweight champion of the world after outpointing top challenger Luis Rodriguez and the pattern of their long ring rivalry remains unchanged.

The outcome brought on a giant beef from the Cuban's camp, and, as has been the custom in all of their four fights, there was a split decision.

Meeting for the third time in little more than a year with the title at stake, Griffith and Rodriguez kept their nationally televised 15-rounder in the Convention Center close all the way.

Referee Harry Krause scored it 69-67 for Griffith, Judge John Romero had it 70-68 for Griffith and the dissenting vote came from Judge David Zenoff, 71-70 for Rodriguez.

There were no knockdowns and the only damage was a slight eye cut suffered by Rodriguez in the second round. The wound was mended and never reopened.

Griffith, who lost the title to Rodriguez in New York last March and got it back in the same city in June, didn't think there was any question about who won this one.

"Rodriguez seemed to lack the zing-zing he usually has. I hurt him under the body. But don't take anything away from him, he's a good fighter."

"I thought I won," declared Rodriguez, adding, "Griffith had plenty of protection. I can't beat him in Las Vegas, New York or the Virgin Islands."

Luis said the referee was unfair in handling the constant fighting and clinches, and his chief handler, Angelo Dundee, said,

"We got the works. The referee kept harassing Rodriguez."

Lema's Legion Pulls For Tony

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — In the absence of Arnold Palmer, the large crowd at the Buick Open golf tournament has formed "Lema's Legion" to follow handsome Tony Lema as he tries for his second consecutive tournament victory.

Lema, winner of last week's Thunderbird Open in New York, fired nine birdies, six of them in a row, Friday and took a three-stroke lead at the midpoint of the tournament with a brilliant 66.

This was three strokes better than his first-round score.

Mason Rudolph, who shot a 70 while fighting strong winds with the rest of the early starters, was in second place with a 138, followed by Dow Finsterwald's 70-70-140.

"I had a very uninteresting round," Lema chimed, "it was so consistent."

Actually, after getting a birdie on the first hole, Lema bogied two of the next three before getting birdies on the last five holes of the front nine and notching his sixth in a row on the 10th.

The string of birdies was the longest of the pro tour this year. Lema's following, which started off as the largest of the day for any threesome, grew as word spread that Tony was having a sparkling round.

The San Leandro, Calif., native reminded newsmen that he was using a putter given to him recently by Palmer.

"Sometimes I think the putter still feels that Arnie is handling it," he added.

Scores were a bit higher compared with the first round, with the winds taking the blame. Only eleven pros were under par while on opening day Thursday 18 broke par 72.

A total of 98 pros and one amateur, Gene Hunt of Flint, Mich., survived the 36-hole cut at 151. Eight other amateurs were invited to compete in the final two rounds of the tourney Saturday and Sunday.

Gene Littler and Joe Campbell, with 154s, and Mike Sou-chak, with a 158, were the more prominent golfers to miss the cut.

Lunt Seeking Rare Repeat

GANTON, England (AP) — Michael Lunt of England had a great chance today to put himself into the golf record books with a player like Lawson Little of the United States.

Lunt, 27-year-old textile executive and winner of the British Amateur Championship last year against American Walker Cup players, went into today's 36-hole final for the amateur title against Gordon Clark, 29-year-old Briton.

Only two men have won the British Amateur two years straight.

They were Harold Hilton of England in 1900 and 1901 and Little in 1934 and 1935.

Lunt, a British Walker Cup player, has one hazard — the thought that he may be in with an easy touch against Clark in the final.

It's a pity that Dale Morey, 44-year-old former American Walker Cup player from High Point, N.C., wasn't around to warn him about Clark's play. Clark shot immaculate golf and knocked Morey out in the round of 16. In the semifinal, Clark was two down against Martin Christmas, British Walker Cup player, and then charged back on the last nine to win 2-up.

Lunt defeated John Hall of England 4 and 3 in the other semifinal.

Earlier Friday Christmas had knocked out the last Yank, Bob Sweeney, 52, of Palm Beach, Fla., 6 and 5 in the quarter-finals.

U. S. Net Team Nears Victory

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The United States team needed only to split with the British women in today's four-match Wightman Cup program to take the trophy again. They led 2-1.

Carole Caldwell of Santa Monica, Calif., in her first Wightman Cup singles match, met Liz Starkie, who has been promoted to singles play because of an arm injury to Christine Truman.

After that Nancy Richey of Dallas, Tex., was matched with Mrs. Ann Jones, the British No. 1 player, and Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., was opposed by Deirdre Catt.

Miss Richey and Miss Moffitt both won their opening singles matches Friday. Miss Richey defeated Miss Catt 4-6, 6-4, 7-5 and Miss Moffitt downed Mrs. Jones 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

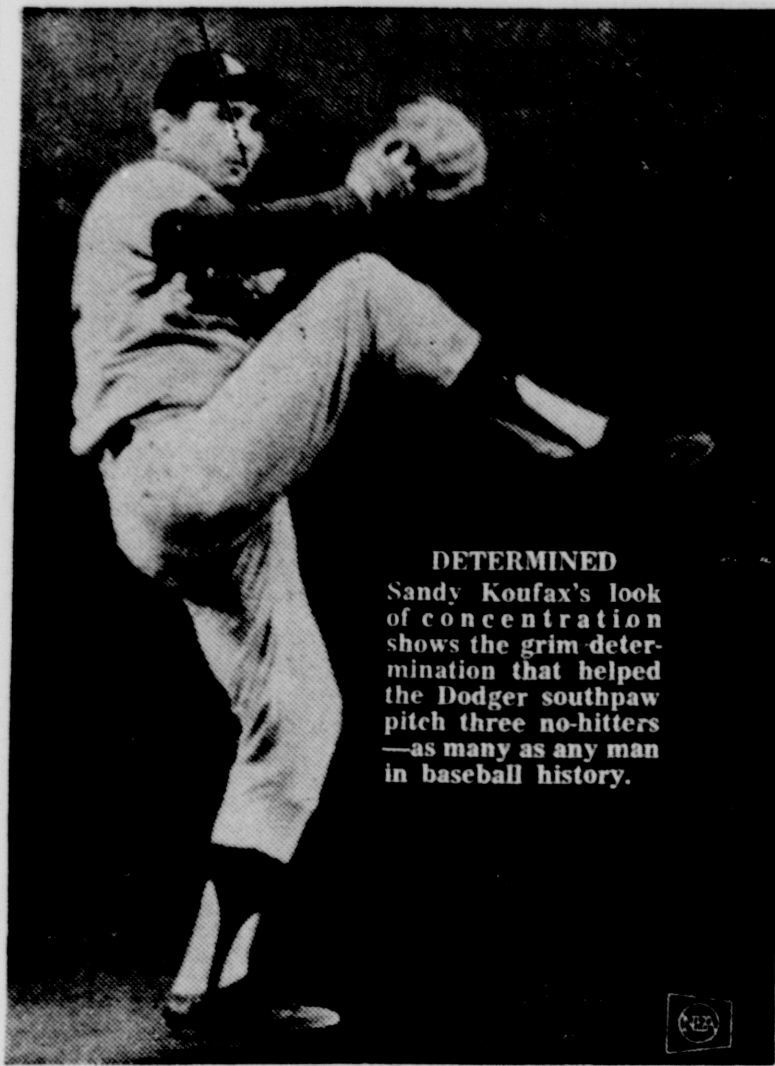

Miss Moffitt and Miss Caldwell then stumbled in the doubles losing to Mrs. Jones and Miss Catt 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

English Take Net Victory

By The Associated Press
Great Britain, West Germany and South Africa can move into the semifinals of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis tournament with just one victory today over Yugoslavia, Denmark and France, respectively.

The English, who won the European Zone last year, took a 2-1 lead over Yugoslavia Friday by winning the doubles at Manchester. Mike Sangster and Bobby Wilson defeated Bora Jovanovic and Nicola Piletic 6-2, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

West Germany took a 2-0 lead over Denmark by winning both singles at Munich. William Bunger defeated Jan Leschley 6-1, 3-6, 11-9, 6-2 and Christian Kuhnke beat Joergen Ulrich 6-2, 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

South Africa also swept the singles for a 2-0 lead over France in their match at Paris marked by six arrests during a demonstration against South Africa's apartheid policies. Keith die Praam upset Pierre Dar-

PITCHING — Whitey Ford,
Yankees, allowed only four hits in 3-0 second-game triumph over American League-leading Chicago White Sox, posting his fifth shutout and eighth straight victory since an opening-game loss. The Yankees won the opene 6-1.

BATTING — Zoilo Versalles,
Twins, slammed a triple, double and two singles, scoring twice and driving in a run as Minnesota defeated Washington
5-3.

1. Card of Thanks

Kutches

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear husband and father. We are grateful to Father Shiroda for his comforting words, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers, spiritual bouquets and those who offered the use of their cars.

DETROIT (AP)—Pitcher Phil
Regan of the Detroit Tigers missed his chance for a relief save Friday night.

"I would have brought in Regan," said manager Charlie Dressen. "Especially after the long wait."

The "wait" involved rain. At least 50 minutes of it. That was enough for the umpires to call the game and wash out a 3-0
Los Angeles Angels lead.

It only took one inning for the Angels to take command. Lu
Clintón cracked one of Hank Aguirre's pitches against the facing of the second dead in right field for all three runs.

Bill Bruton opened the Tigers first with a single, but was quickly erased when Jerry Lumpe's grounder was converted into a double play. Al Kaline grounded out the umpires, who had worked through the inning under a steady drizzle, apparently felt they had had enough.

Arrowoods' Son Granted Degree

Virgil Norberg Arrowood, former Manistique resident and now pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Lamar, Colorado, was given an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree by Baptist Bible College in Denver at commencement exercises May 18. Rev. Arrowood, a 1934 graduate of Manistique High School, is the son of the late James W. Arrowood and Mrs. Signe Arrowood, who is now living in Gladstone.

Personals

Mrs. Irene Stewart, 824 Dakota Ave., returned home Wednesday evening after spending the past six months with her son Douglas and family in Lansing. While in Lansing she was a patient at Sparrow Hospital. Mrs. Charles Stewart and son Charles Jr., and daughter, Mary, drove to Lansing to bring Mrs. Stewart home.

Govt. Moves To Nip Jeep Gyp

The Defense Logistics Service Center (DLSC) will try again to explode the great jeep myth at a Defense Department auction on June 17 in Norfolk, Va. DLSC will put on the block 33 jeeps or major parts of jeeps during the auction of 304 surplus items that once cost the government almost $1.5 million.

The jeeps once worth an estimated total of $38,691, "appear to be in poor condition," the sale catalog states. All are incomplete and lack major parts. Several are wrecks.

During the past year, gypsies have offered to sell "unused" surplus jeeps to unwary buyers for as little as $35 each on a "cash now, jeep later" basis. Such "salesmen" have invariably — and necessarily, according to Defense Department spokesmen — disappeared over the nearest horizon, taking their "cash now" and their claims with them.

Departing School Superintendents Honored Friday

Delta county school superintendents meeting Friday afternoon at Rapid River honored three departing area superintendents, Walter Bright, Escanaba Area Schools, who is going to Grand Haven, Mich.; Howard Kuehn, Perkins, leaving for Potterville, Mich.; near Lansing, and Kenton Holm, Bark River-Harris, transferring to Washburn, Wis., near Ashland.

The meeting was conducted by Supt. George Weingartner of Rock Schools and Supt. Leo Brunelle of Flat Rock, who gave tributes to the leadership and contributions to education made by the departing superintendents.

Also attending were Hagle Quarnstrom, Delta County Supt. of Manistique schools and Richard Rinehart, president of Bay De Noc Community College.

Two Questioned In Stabbing At Detroit Party

DETROIT (AP)—A father and a 17-year-old youth remained under investigation along with two juveniles today in a high school graduation party fight in which four persons were stabbed Friday.

The fight took place outside a meeting hall where a group had held a party for a girl graduate.

Held for investigation of felonious assault were Austin Loftus, 46, and Doyle Walker, 17. Police said the fight started when Loftus and a group of boys, earlier guests at the party, returned and tried to re-enter the hall while it was being closed. The weapons used in the fight included a knife and an ice pick, police said.

General Strike Ends In Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Nigeria's 13-day-old general strike ended today. The country's labor unions won most of their major demands.

Haruna P. Adebola, leader of the union's joint action committee said workers would receive most of the wage increases recommended in the government commission's report.

The commission was set up last fall to head off the threatened general strike. The union had rejected a government white paper issued last month which reduced the commissions proposals by one-half to two-thirds.

Adebola said the 750,000 striking workers also would be paid for the time they were idle during the strike and that the wage boosts would be binding on most private industry.

MR. AND MRS. HERBERT PETERSON, 1414 3rd Ave. S., and their daughter, Bonnie (at left) left this morning for New York City to visit the World's Fair. On June 20 they will sail on the S. S. Kungsholm for Sweden. They will tour the Scandinavian countries for a month and then return home. The vacation is a graduation gift to Bonnie from her parents. Miss Peterson was graduated Tuesday from Escanaba High School. (Preston's Studio)

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

William Ahlfeld, the new director of public relations for Mead Corp., was a guest of George Douglas, manager of the Escanaba Division of Mead Friday in Escanaba.

Ahlfeld succeeds Ford Shepherd, former vice president in charge of public relations who became vice president-government relations. Ahlfeld was a newsman on the Chicago Times before World War I. He went to United States Steel Corp. in 1948 as a field representative and in 1953 was named assistant director of public relations in the Midwest area. He went to the East in 1955 and became a speech writer for Ben Fairless, president of Big Steel, and served in that capacity for the last 7 years of the life of Fairless, who was much admired by Ahlfeld.

He's been with Mead since last year and brings the unmistakable marks of his early training in newspapers as well as his long exposure to industry in Big Steel to his new work with one of the world's biggest paper makers and converters. Basic question of anyone in Ahlfeld's position is: "What's the public image of my firm?"

He has a chance for a clinical study of the question in the Roger Blough case when Big Steel raised its prices and President Kennedy used all the big guns of the Federal Government to make it renege. Such crises determine whether an industry has a reservoir of good will with the public which assures fair consideration of its position and its relationship with the government.

Ahlfeld was told that Mead's image in the Escanaba area is excellent. It is the area's largest taxpayer by far, one of its largest employers, it has great stability of employment, it has grown consistently, it has been a generous, willing and big volume supporter of the community not only through its large tax payments, employfell in that state's primary: "It's unfortunate it's so late. One of the reasons is that Scranton and others like him sat on their hands so long."

Leap Into GOP Race May Have Come Too Late

Few seemed to think the Scranton bid would deprive Goldwater of the nomination.

GOOD FOR PRATY
GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower says he welcomes the entry of Gov. William W. Scranton into the contest for the Republican presidential nomination, but he declined to commit himself when four Pennsylvania legislators asked him to endorse the governor.

It was a busy day Friday for Eisenhower as he also met here with Maxwell M. Rabb of New York, a former White House aide and now national chairman of the campaign committee of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Rabb told a news conference later that his organization was throwing its support behind Scranton.

"What I have done will be echoed in other moderate Republican groups," he said.

Eisenhower, who listened to Scranton declare himself a candidate on the radio, issued a statement, saying:

"For more than a year I have been arguing that the Republican party would be benefited if more leading Republicans would declare their availability for public office and take it upon themselves to express their views concerning the developing political scene and the issues facing the nation."

"In my judgment, free, fair and active competition among party personalities is not divisive but, to the contrary, is good for the health and vigor of the party."

"It is in this conviction that I welcome the entry of Gov. Scranton, whom I have long admired, into the contest for the presidential nomination of the Republican party."

City Will Mow Weed Areas If Owners Fail To

"Keep vacant lots and grass plots mowed and our community will be a safer and more slightly place in which to live," says Escanaba Fire Chief Nels Bergeon.

Beginning next week the chief will make a survey of weed, grass and brush sites in the city, listing their locations and advising owners to have the areas cleared, conforming to the city ordinance. The ordinance requires that "grass plots growing along any public street or alley must be kept mowed by the owner of the adjoining property."

"If the weeds or grass are allowed to grow to more than 10 inches, the area will be considered neglected and if the owner refuses to mow it after being notified it will be mowed by the city," said Chief Bergeon.

Chief Bergeon said that "if the work is done by the city, the cost will be about $50 per lot."

Pastor Accused Of Frauds In Numbers Racket

DETROIT (AP)—The Rev. James L. Lofton Jr., 31, stood mute in U.S. District Court Friday to mail and telephone fraud charges in connection with alleged numbers game gambling.

He was freed for trial under $1,000 bond after a plea of innocent was entered for him.

Rev. Lofton, former pastor of the First Metropolitan Church, is charged on seven counts of mail fraud and 10 counts of fraud by telephone. Each is punishable by a maximum of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

The government said Lofton rented a post office box in Cincinnati, Ohio, through which he allegedly promised to furnish winning numbers in return for a donation.

C&NW Offers Merger Terms

CHICAGO — The Chicago & North Western Railway has proposed a merger with the Chicago Great Western Railway through an exchange of 0.7 share of North Western common for each Great Western common share and 0.75 share of North Western preferred for each Great Western preferred share.

Great Western's board hasn't acted on the offer, but sources close to both roads say approval is expected, particularly in view of the announcement of terms.

North Western Chairman Den W. Heineman estimated that at current market prices, the value of the North Western's offer is approximately $31 million. On the New York Stock Exchange yesterday, North Western common closed at $44.50 and its preferred at $69.75.

The proposal also provides that Great Western shareholders would retain "in some feasible manner" 25,000 shares of Mid-American Pipe Line Co. and certain property at Roseport, Minn., owned by a Great Western subsidiary.

The Great Western, based in Kansas City, operates about 1,400 miles of north-south track between Minneapolis-St. Paul and Kansas City, and east-west track between Omaha and Chicago.

A key factor in any merger would be extension of the North Western's system into Kansas City, an important Western freight traffic gateway. The North Western runs over about 10,000 miles of track lacing most of the Midwest. It runs as far north as Duluth, Minn., from Chicago to Lander, Wyo., and south to a few miles north of St. Louis.

Cutter Booked For Centennial Celebration Here

The Coast Guard Cutter SUNDEW (WAGL-404) will be in Escanaba the weekend of July 11 to participate in the C&NW Railway and Ore Centennial celebration. Wesley Hansen, general chairman, announced today.

Capt. D. O. Reed, commander, 9th Coast Guard District, Cleveland, extended his best wishes for a successful celebration. Commander Francis J. Mann is commanding officer of the Sundew.

Dock Worker Is Injured In Fall

Robert Preston, 36, of Powers, was taken to St. Francis Hospital this morning for examination after he slipped while walking on a barge at the C&NW Railway dock. He suffered bruises and a back injury. There was no immediate report on his condition. The barge was part of equipment working on the dock sheet piling project. Bates & Rogers are the contractors.
